DONORA NOW IN POSITION TO MAKE ITS OWN SLATES

Pollock Withdraws and Lewis' Field is Clear for Prothonotary

OTHER CANDIDATES THINK

Solid Mill Vote Wanted by Many and Again Things Are Up in the Air

By the withdrawal of Harry E. Pollock of Washington, which leaves a clear field for Dr. A. V. Lewis of Donora for the Republican nomination for prothonotary, it is evident that the steel town politicians have pulled one over on the county seat politicians and particularly the makers of the alleged slate there and other sections of the county. With Pollock off the track and a clear field for Lewis, Donora does not have to throw her Republican vote in a bunch to all the other candidates on the alleged slate in order to get support for Lewis. The supporters of Lewis in Donora can now divide up and trade their vote among all the other candidates in order to strengthen Lewis' chances at the November election, which are admittedly more in danger from that source than they would have been at the primary had Pollock remained a candidate.

The publication of the alleged slate which was based upon the possibility of getting the solid block of Donora's Republican vote for each of the slated candidates, aroused a storm of angry protest throughout the county. It is stated that letters of protest and personal objections rushed into Donora, threatening reprisals at the November election if Donora gave her solid Republican vote to the candidates of the alleged slate. As Donora is out for an official at the county seat this term, and is really entitled to representation, the leaders there were for a time between the devil and deep sea. Now this is all cleared away, and it is up to the rest of the alleged slate to do the sweating from this time hence.

It is stated that the friends of John H. Bowers of Charleroi, candidate for county treasurer, Frank Wickerham, of Monongahelt, candidate for register, and John J. Cairns of Roscoe, candidate for commissioner, were particularly indignant over the alleged deal, and all made haste to declare themselves as to what was likely to happen if the Donora's vote was bunched for the slated candidates. The friends of Cairns, who is exceedingly popular among the miners and working people of the valley, were perhaps the most outspoken, and it was readily seen that a defection from this source might be formidable at the November election. Other sections were also aroused and it was evident that some one would have to get the double cross, either at the primary or at the November election.

The danger of defections in the river district was emphasized by the candidacy of Joseph W. Martin, who is the nominee of the Democrat-Keystone fusion. Martin is conceded to be a strong candidate, a good campaigner, and is widely known besides. He has no opposition at the primaries, but it is stated he expects to make

Investigates Two Deaths

Deputy Coroner Hazlett Views Ninth Street School and Coal Mine

Deputy Coroner William Hazlett of Pittsburg was in Charleroi Wednesday to begin an inquiry into the death of Anthony Bronder, of Seventh street who died in the Mercy hospital, Pittsburg from injuries received in the Crombie mine, Charleroi and to investigate the circumstances surrounding the death of Frank Hough, late janitor of the Ninth street school building, who died at the Allegheny General hospital, Pittsburg from injuries received while at his work. Mr. Hazlett inspected the Crombie mine and the Ninth street school building. In both cases he secured statements from those who knew something of the occurrences. It is not known whether or not inquests will be held.

NEW BRIDGE IS FAVORED

Plans Will be Prepared at Once for Brownsville Structure

TO BE ERECTED JOINTLY

By unanimous vote the joint boards of County Commissioners of Washington and Fayette counties in session at Brownsville Wednesday refused to permit squabbles about damages to longer delay the erection of a bridge over the Monongahela river at Brownsville. They adopted a resolution to secure engineers at once to have plans made and to advertise for bids for the contract at the earliest possible date, with the understanding that the construction work is to be completed in the shortest time consistent with good work

As contractors and manufacturers of materials have been aware for some time that bids would be asked for this bridge it is believed that there will be no delay in securing the necessary delivery of steel.

PREPARE TO START POSTAL BANK HERE

Announcement is Made of Rules Governing Deposits--Much Interest is Being Manifested by Hitchcock

DEPOSITS MAY BE CONVERTED INTO U. S. BONDS

When Postoffice Inspector H. H. Williams was here this week he left a number of circulars containing rules for the postal savings bank to be opened in Charleroi next Tuesday morning. Postmaster J. E. McCardle will have charge of the depository for the time being and it will be opened under his supervision. The opening hours daily will be fixed after a system for handling the deposits is worked out. The opening hours for a time after the opening on Tuesday will be 8 o'clock and the window will probably close at 6 o'clock. The money order window will be used to receive deposits. Postmaster General Hitchcock is interested particularly in the success of the postal savings banks in the rich Mononagahela valley and the success which has been attained in the handling of funds in the offices opened thus fas is complimentary to him. The faith of the United States is solemnly pledged to the payment of deposits made in postal savings depository offices.

How To Open Accounts.

Accounts may be opened by any person 10 years old or over, by signing an application blank. Only a single account can be carried by any person and a married woman can keep an account in her own name free from interference of any one. Patrons only will be allowed to open deposits and all must be opened in person by the depositor or an authorized representative. Subsequent deposits can be forwarded by mail. Corporations, associations, societies, firms, partnerships or two or more persons jointly are probibited from having accounts, individuals only to be accepted as depositors. Upon the death of a depositor the amount to his credit will be paid to the executor or administrator of his estate upon compliance with the necessary requirements.

Service Is Free.

The service is free and the greatest privacy is maintained. No charge will be collected when an account is opened, or with the withdrawal of money deposited. No information concerning an account or depositors will be disclosed.

One Dollar To Begin.

It takes $1.00 to open an account, and no more than $100 will be received at any one time. The largest amount one can have to his credit is $500, exclusive of accumulated interect. Deposits are evidenced by postal-savings certificates issued in fixed denominations of $1, $2, $5, $10, $20, $50 and $100 each bearing data of the deposits, when made, etc. These certificates can be kept in an envelope especially provided. If any certificates are lost the postmaster should be notified. Accounts for less than $1 may be saved by the purchase of 1-cent postal savings cards and adhesive 10-cent postal savings stamps, and the deposits made when sums of $1 or more in dollar quantities are secured. Two per cent interest is paid, computed annually, and from the first day of the month next following that in which the deposit is made.

Withdrawals May Be Made

Rules are provided for withdrawing money by the surrenderng and endorsement of savings certificates. If only a part of the deposit is to be withdrawn a new certificate will be presented by the postmaster covering the amount to be left on deposit. Interest may be withdrawn upon the depositor giving a receipt and credit will be placed on his certificate. An accredited representative may make withdrawals for a depositor when the depositor's signature on a blank specially provided for the purpose is properly witnessed by a disinterested person.

Government Bonds Purchasable.

Any part of a deposit in sums of $20, $40, $60. $80, $100 or multiples of $100 up to and including $500 can be exchanged into United States registered or coupon bonds bearing interest at the rate of 2 1-2 per cent per annum, payable semi-annually and redeemable at the pleasure of the United States after one year from date of issue, both principal and interest payable 20 years from such date in United States gold coin.

While the limitation of postal-savings deposits if $500 there is no limitation to the amount of bonds that may be purchased. Additional accounts can be started after the maximum of deposits is reached and converted into bonds. Bonds will not be issued to those who are not depositors. Savings deposits can be converted into bonds on January 1, and July 1 of any year by the depositor making application 15 days before hand. At the time the bonds are secured interest will be paid on the deposit as due and thereupon the bonds will become interest bearing.

Hitchcock's Pet Scheme.

Frankly stated, the postal savings bank is the invention and pet scheme of Potsmaster General Frank H. Hitchcock. It is especially for those persons who feel a little wary of banks, who hide their money in a stocking or a hole in the ground. Uncle Sam will not fail even if the banks do, and the depositor is protected by the nation.

STRAW LIDS HAVE THEIR INNINGS

Summer Thatch-Pieces Have to Go and Tomorrow is Last Day of Grace

If one is forgetful and dons his old summer straw thatch-piece and meanders down street as usual tomorrow and somebody bangs him on the head and sends that old straw thatchpiece spinning into the gutter to ruin, he shouldn't feel angry or discomfited—it's only a method employed to call his attention to the fact that the summer lid season has closed. Tomorrow Friday, September 15, is the date of the exit of the straw hat. It no longer will be the effete headgear, and caps derbies, or almost anything that doesn't cost a fortune will replace it.

There are several and varied kinds of styles of hats for men, but the kind

Council asked the company to repair the street some time ago.

STRANGLES TO DEATH

Wireton Man Hangs Himself to Bedpost by Sheet Rope

DESPONDENCY THE CAUSE

When the boarding boss of the house in Wireton went to awaken William Orlansky, a Pole aged 25, Wednesday afternoon he made the gruesome discovery of the man's dead body. The man's head was in a noose formed of sheets and suicide was evident. Deputy Coroner H. W. Day of Monessen was notified and took charge of the body.

Orlanskey was employed at the Pittsburg Steel mill, and this week was working night turn. Wednesday morning he went to bed the same as usual. When late in the afternoon the boarding boss made an effort to awaken him, he found the door locked. He broke it open and found the man dead.

Orlanskey had formed a noose from sheets which he suspended to the bed post. In this he put his neck and it is supposed strangled to death. No cause is given for suicide, beyond that of despondency. His wife was in the old country, where she had been for some time and it is supposed that he was worrying on acocunt of her prolonged absence. He had money and had recently purchased a lot of furniture from a Monessen furniture dealer. Orlansky was a well known Pole of Monessen

Pollock Quits

Harry E. Pollock, of East Washington, Republican candidate for prothonotary announced Wednesday that he had withdrawn from the race. Blowing and Finishing Begin This Week at Macbeth-Evans

NEVER IN BETTER SHAPE

Plant Now Operating in Full--Extensive Additions and Improvements Made

With the capacity greatly increased in the blowing and finishing rooms by extensive improvements and additions, the tank department of the Macbeth-Evans Glass plant, resumed Wednesday and today. Blowing was started Wednesday and the work of finishing was begun today. The factory has been partially closed down since July 1, undergoing repairs. The melting capacity is increased 50 per cent.

Together in the blowing and finishing rooms between 400 and 500 men went to work Wednesday and today. This includes a number of additional men to the force formerly employed. In the blowing room tanks were rebuilt and improved to a big extent, the work having been hastened as much as possible, but being thoroughly done. The finishing room has been almost revolutionized.

Never was the local factory of the Macbeth-Evans Glass company in better shape for turning out glass ware of the various sorts handled. An addition is now being finished on a site on the southern side of Eighth street, which will be used for a ware room. At present the plant is crowded for space. The roof is now being placed on the new addition and paving will be completed in a short time. When this addition is put into use it will further increase the working force to some extent.

Mrs. S. B. Gray, Mrs. O. M. Boughner, Miss Ida Gray, Miss Lit M. Gray and Miss Haddie Blackshere of Uniontown were visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Weltner of Fallowfield avenue, Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. U.S.Orange are spending the day in Pittsburg.

THINK AND TALK.

With the near approach of the primary election the all absorbing topic is naturally politics. Both municipal and county officials are to be elected and every citizen is vitally interested, as on the character of the officials to be chosen depends the conduct of the business affairs of the public which has to be paid for by the taxpayers of both county and borough. It is therefore essential that if the taxpayers desire to keep down expenses they must choose men with good business qualifications who will safeguard the business interests of the charge entrusted to them.

In the borough affairs the council and school board expend the taxpayers' money. It is these boards which pass upon the exonerations of taxes—that is the amounts which are difficult to collect or are uncollectable for some reason or other. Our tax laws are very lax in giving the taxable an unlimited amount of time in which to pay his taxes, in the interval of which many evade payment altogether. By watching these closely both the council and school board can save no inconsiderable amount each year for the borough. This is only one of the functions of the boards which are most important in the conduct of the municipal and school fiscal affairs. There are many others which have a direct bearing upon the material and moral welfare of the community, and it is therefore up to the voters to consider these matters when they make their choice at the polls on September 30.

SOMETHING TO TAX.

If those people who are clamorous for a change in the existing tariff schedules will but consider the situation they will realize that in case the present schedules are cut down the government will have to find something more to tax. At the present time the tariff is the chief revenue producer, and if the spread of local option and abstinence continues the intrenal revenue receipts will naturally diminish. That being the case income and other personal forms of taxation will have to be restored to for revenue for the expenses of the government.

It is possible that some of the tariff schedules are unduly high in some quarters and correspondingly low in others. If that is true they can be shifted and adjusted without disarranging the whole schedule. Nothing demoralizes business more than the readjustment of the tariff, and if the agitators will but bear this in mind during the next year, which will open up a Presidential campaign, much of the business stagnation which prevails during a tariff agitating campaign will be avoided. If the tariff is cut down the Government will have to find somethhing more to tax, and in that case it will no doubt bear more heavily on the individual than heretofore.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"I was somewhat chagrined to find my name on the 'sucker' list" remarked a Charleroi business man recently. "What do I mean by the sucker list? Why, a list of names gthered in every community and peddled out to promoters of schemes as ones likely to invest in stocks of schemes and projects. It is a matter of fact that lists of people are gathered in every community and forwarded to brokers and stock promoters, where they are arranged and classified, according to their occupations and their likelihood to have some surplus savings that might be invested. I have been told by an insider who has seen these lists that professional men head it—lawyers, physicians, newspaper workers, and ministers. Then come teachers, clerks, salesmen and wage earners generally. Women, who have been left an inheritance, widows in particular, stand high in the list as as among the first to approach. Merchants and small manufacturers are not rated high, as these usually have to employ all their surplus funds in their business. As these are supposed to be the easiest to rope in on the various schemes—the easy marks—they are derisively called 'suckers' by those who are trying to separate them from their money, just as the crooks who follow the county fairs, circuses and carnivals to work the country people call their prospective victims 'simps.'

"The way I came to find out I was listed was when a smooth spoken and genial stranger called at my office this week and begged a few minutes of my time. He had a project, one of the greatest money makers in existence—so he claimed—and when it was sufficiently capitalized and got to working the money would simply flow in to the stockholders in a continuous golden flood. Would I care to invest? Shares were selling at only one dollar per, and after this month they would be advanced, and in a short time none could be gotten for less than par, which is fifty dollars. When he first broached the project he consulted a neatly type written list of names, which I could see was classified according to occupation. I realized at once that it was a 'sucker' list, but how my name came to be added is a mystery, for I have always turned down every wildcat scheme and every other, for that matter, as it is all I care to undertake to carry on my own business. As a matter of fact I have saved a great deal of money since coming to Charleroi by not having any to invest in the various schemes that have separated the people here from their money at different times. I may look like an easy mark in that respect, but I have the consciousness that I am immune to the blandishments of the smooth promoter."

SAVED DAUGHTERS LIFE

This Father Refused to Let His Daughter Die.

Here is a story with amoral that many parents might take to heart:

"My daughter was very pale, nerous, thin and suffered with severe pain in her back, so that we took her out of school. Her flesh became blue and she could not retain her urine. I spent over $100 for medicines but she grew worse. Finally I bought a bottle of Thompson's Barosma and she began to grow better right away. Five bottles of Thompson's Barosma made a complete cure and today she is a perfectly healthy girl. Thompson's Barosma saved her life, for she was failing so fast that death was not far off."—Frank D. Meeder, Pleasantville Pa.

If you are troubled with backache, sideache, weakness with backache, or any liver or kidney trouble, then it's time for Thompson's Barosma.

W. F. Henning's sells Thompson's Barosma in two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00, and he guarantees it to cure Bright's disease, high colored urine, bed-wetting and all other kidney and liver diseases. It will make anyone vigorous in a few weeks, because it is a great tonic and maker of rich red blood. All druggists.

For Coroner

R. C. GARBER

Washington, Pa.

In presenting myself as a Candidate for Coroner, I do so in the interest of the people only and in no way connected with any faction and I wish to state that if elected will observe the following platform.

If elected I will not appoint 15 or 20 undertakers as deputies, but will be Coroner of the County myself. I will appoint one deputy until the duties become so heavy that more are needed. If elected I guarantee that I will not be controlled by any man or set of men and that I will conduct the office to the best of my knowledge and ability and to the best interest of and justice to the taxpayers. I wish to impress it upon the mines of the people that on election day I will not have any person employed to work for me, neither will I have rigs to have the voters to and from the polls. What I want is a "square deal", and I will prove to the people, if elected, that I am worthy of their support and at the end of my term they will have the same good opinion of me as when they cast their ballots.

I am a working man and have no money to spend for election purposes other than advertising. If the voters of the county wish to vote for me on these principles, your support will be appreciated.

Yours Very Truly

Wore Outer Clothing Only.

Centuries ago, as Sir Walter Scott says in "Ivanhoe," men wore one thickness of clothes, whether of wool leather or velvet. The shirt was invented, but for a long time was worn only by the nobility and gentry Then followed the waistcoat, breeches and later on, trousers. The overcoat, which succeeded the mediaeval cloak, was rare until the seventeenth century.

The Pacifier.

Some women while engaged decorating a village church were informed that a goat was making a meal of a "Peace on Earth, Good Will to Men" design on the leaves, which had been left in the church yard, says the St Louis Post-Dispatch.

"Make haste, Pat," cried the women, "the goat is starting to eat again."

"Let him ate away," said Pat, "I am goin' to wait until he's got some 'good will to man' inside of him."

WASHINGTON PLANT TO BE CLOSED BY WEST PENN CO.

According to reliable information received here, the West Penn Traction interests, which recently took over the Washington Electric Light & Power company as well as a number of other light and power corporations in this section, are preparing to close the local plant, at least partially, in a very short while, says the Washington Reporter. The intention of the company is said to be to furnish electricity to Washington and vicinity from the big main power station near Connellsville, or from another station to be built at a point central to all the company's holdings.

Whether the boiler battery at the local plant will be operated during the cold weather to maintain the steam heating system is not known definitely, but it is doubted if even this part of the plant is to be operated since such an operation might not give much financial return without the power adjunct.

The Washington plant erected within the past few years is one of the most up-to-date and best equipped in this section, although not the largest by any means. It has duplicate equipment of all kinds, and a capacity for much more light and power than it is now furnishing. What disposition is to be made of the dynamos, generators and other machinery at this point is not known, but in the event of the plant being closed, it is likely that the equipment will be removed to some other plant of the West Penn company.

The West Penn Traction company, with the several new plants it recently acquired in this section, is one of the heaviest producers of electricity in the Western Pennsylvania field, and its aim in operating through this section and furnishing light, heat and power to so many municipalties and concerns is to centralize its product stations as much as possible. It is said that the power for the local field will come for the present from the Connellsville region, but that it is the intention of the company later to build an immense central power plant at Charleroi, which is near the center of the company's activities, and supply electricity, to every part of the field operated, from that station.

Many incline to the belief that the steam heating business will also be abandoned by the company, but this is not certainly known. The congregation of the First Presbyterian church, fearing that such a step would be taken, held a meeting last night to consider the installation of a steam heating plant of its own to take the place of the electric light company's heat. Estimates which provided for the installation of a plant for both Sunday school room and main church building at a cost of about $1,600 were presented at last night's meeting, but astion was postponed for the time being.

Business houses and many private residents are anxious to know what is to be done regarding the steam heating proposition, as many of them would be forced upon its withdrawal, to install some independent means of heating. It is not likely, according to those who know most about the situation that anything will be done soon toward withdrawing the public heating by the light company.

a vigorous campaign at the November election, for prothonotary. This was a [illegible] signal to the Lewis f[illegible] had to be reckoned with. Now, [illegible]h no opposition to Lewis, the inference is that Donora's vote will be divided among all the candidates, and no attempt will be made by the voters there to support any other candidate solidly in the interests of Lewis. It is not necessary now for his friends to make deals for his nomination, and it is certainly the part of wisdom to take care not to jeopardize his chances at the November election. Pollock's withdrawal virtually "busts" the alleged slate, as without Donora's solid vote every candidate must depend upon his own merits and resources.

Various Uses for the Aloe.

In Africa the leaves of certain species of aloe provide material for bowstrings, hammocks, fishing lines and ropes. With the Mohammedans the aloe means much. For instance, those who have returned from a pilgrimage to Mecca hang it over their doors, as a sign that they have made the great journey.

MINGO RAILROAD BECOMES PROPERTY OF COAL COMPANY

The Mingo & Monongahela franchise, together with all maps, surveys and rights of way, has been disposed of by the projectors to E. J. Taylor, chief engineer of the Pittsburg Coal company, ostensibly acting for that corporation, although no information on the subject is vouchesafed at its general offices.

The project contemplates the construction of a railroad to extend from a point on the Baltimore & Ohio, near Thomas station, to a connection with the Pittsburg, Virginia & Charleston, at Monongahela, and which will, if built, open up a vast field of Pittsburg vein coal, the Pittsburg Coal company and the United States Steel corporation together owning not less than 25,000 acres. In addition, many tracts containing thousands of acres in the aggregate, are yet in the possession of the original owners, these farms, being among the finest of Washington county's famous estates.

The officers of the Mingo & Monongahela Railroad company are: President, William Abbott, Monongahela City; vice president, Dwight Thompson; treasurer, James H. Gamble, Elizabeth; chief engineer, C. M'K. Watts, Elizabeth.

John H. Bowers is the people's candidate for county treasurership. Why? Because the people want the best man available for that position. They want a man who is not subservient to the dictates of a boss; one who does not wear the collar of an autocrat; one of exceptional ability; one who possesses all the attributes of a man and one who is able to conduct the treasurer's office in the intrests of all the people and not for any special clique. Vote for Bowers.

FOR COUNTY TREASURER

S. M. Downer

ROBERT R. HAYS

ROBERT R. HAYS Candidate for the office of County Treasurer on the Democratic and Keystone Tickets, defines his position

To the Public

My business having brought me in close touch with the taxpayers of the county and understanding what the public desires in the way of reform, I pledge myself, if nominated and elected to the office of county treasurer, that I will advertise for bids from banks and trust companies of the county and will appoint depositories paying the best rate of interest and will require said depositories to furnish adequate security. I am opposed to the policy of making any one banking institution the depository for all the funds of the county, but favor distributing the funds among the banks and trust companies.

I promise to pay for my own bond so that no banking institution, individual or political faction can say that I am under obligation to them.

I promise that I will use no influence on the county commissioners in their effort to make a fair adjustment of the fees of the treasurer. Personally I favor paying the treasurer a salary.

I promise to conduct the office for the benefit of the public and not in the interest of any banking institution or individual.

I believe that publicity in public affairs is essential for the proper administration of any public office and I will keep the taxpayers familiar with the business of this important office through the newspapers of the county. No office holder should fear the light and the press is the best agency for the enlightment of the public.

I promise to give the office the same careful consideration I have given the business in which I am engaged and invite the voters to investigate my record at home.

Assuring you that I will exercise all my ability in safeguarding the country's money for the best interests of the taxpayers, I submit my candidacy to the voters and ask for their influence and support at the primaries September 30.

WEDDING TODAY IS BRILLIANT EVENT

Miss Evelyn Hayes Becomes the Bride of R. S. Moody--Leave on Motoring Trip

At Christ Lutheran church this morning at 9 o'clock Roderick S. Moody, and Miss Esther Evelyn Hayes, a popular couple of Charleroi, were united in marriage. Rev. Chalmers E. Frontz, pastor of the church, pronounced the words which made them man and wife. The ceremony was witnessed by only the immediate families of the couple The impressive ring ceremony was used.

Later in the day the happy couple left on a motoring tour to West Virginia. They will be gone two weeks and during their trip they will see some of the points of historical interest in the Blue Ridge. Upon their return they will take up their residence here. A fine brick residence is now being completed for Mr. Moody at the corner of Second street and Fallowfield avenue, and in about a month Mr. and Mrs. Moody will move in there.

The bride is a popular young woman, and among her wide circle of friends is a favorite. Mr. Moody is a much respected young man. He holds a responsible position with the Macbeth-Evans Glass company, being employed in the electrical department.

Place to Hitch but Nobody Kind Enough to Tell Woman Loeation

Complain[illegible] this morning that a woman who drove in from the country to do some trading was ordered to move away from one or two places where she tried to hitch her horse. The orders were not from the police but from business people The woman seemed to be a stranger, and was at a loss to know what to do with her rig. No one directed her to the hitching posts provided and she is said to have experienced much inconvenience as well as embarrassment. Members of the Business Men's Association learned of the occurrence later and much regretted it. They desire all to inform strangers who may drive into town where to hitch their horses, as conduct like this would tend to drive trade away from the town.

J. K. RICKEY ENTERS FIELD FOR COUNCIL

J. K. Rickey announces in this issue his candidacy for the Republican nomination for council for the term of four years. Mr. Rickey is a young man of excellent character, an active Republican, and has made good in a business way. He is manager of the Cudahay Packing company's interests in Charleroi, a position of wide responsibility and trust, which he has acceptably filled for a number of years. Mr. Rickey is a property owner as well as the head of an interesting family. These are the claims he presents to the voters for their support, and his record is open for their scrutiny.

most in favor for the young men is that with a pencil rol. Nearly all the most up-to-date fall hats look as though they needed a shave, but that's only make believe. The real purpose is to catch all the dirt there is to be caught. However, it doesn't show much, for the colors scheme of brown prevents that. For the staid old individual who never wore anything but a derby or the broad brimmed Stetson, there will be no change practically from the usual style. Caps are becoming mighty fashionable and besides they are a heap cheaper than other kinds of bonnets.

DONORA NOW IN POSITION TO MAKE ITS OWN SLATES

Pollock Withdraws and Lewis' Field is Clear for Prothonotary

OTHER CANDIDATES THINK

Solid Mill Vote Wanted by Many and Again Things Are Up in the Air

By the withdrawal of Harry E Pollock of Washington, which leaves a clear field for Dr. A. V. Lewis of Donora for the Republican nomination for prothonotary, it is evident that the steel town politicians have pulled one over on the county seat politicians and particularly the makers of the alleged slate there and other sections of the county. With Pollock off the track and a clear field for Lewis, Donora does not have to throw her Republican vote in a bunch to all the other candidates on the alleged slate in order to get support for Lewis. The supporters of Lewis in Donora can now divide up and trade their vote among all the other candidates in order to strengthen Lewis' chances at the November election, which are admittedly more in danger from that source than they would have been at the primary had Pollock remained a candidate

The publication of the alleged slate which was based upon the possibility of getting the solid block of Donora's Republican vote for each of the slated candidates, aroused a storm of angry protest throughout the county. It is stated that letters of protest and personal objections rushed into Donora, threatening reprisals at the November election if Donora gave her solid Republican vote to the candidates of the alleged slate As Donora is out for an official at the county seat this term, and is really entitled to representation, the leaders there were for a time between the devil and deep sea Now this is all cleared away, and it is up to the rest of the alleged slate to do the sweating from this time hence

It is stated that the friends of John H Bowers of Charleroi, candidate for county treasurer, Frank Wickerham, of Monongahelt, candidate for register, and John J. Cairns of Roscoe, candidate for commissioner, were particularly indignant over the alleged deal, and all made haste to declare themselves as to what was likely to happen if the Donora's vote was bunched for the slated candidates The friends of Cairns, who is exceedingly popular among the miners and working people of the valley, were perhaps the most outspoken, and it was readily seen that a defection from this source might be formidable at the November election. Other sections were also aroused and it was evident that some one would have to get the double cross, either at the primary or at the November election

The danger of defections in the river district was emphasized by the candidacy of Joseph W Martin, who is the nominee of the Democrat-Keystone fusion Martin is conceded to be a strong candidate, a good campaigner, and is widely known besides He has no opposition at the primaries, but it is stated he expects to make

Deputy Coroner William Hazlett of Pittsburg was in Charleroi Wednesday to begin an inquiry into the death of Anthony Bronder, of Seventh street who died in the Mercy hospital, Pittsburg from injuries received in the Crombie mine, Charleroi and to investigate the circumstances surrounding the death of Frank Hough, late janitor of the Ninth street school building, who died at the Allegheny General hospital, Pittsburg from injuries received while at his work. Mr. Hazlett inspected the Crombie mine and the Ninth street school building In both cases he secured statements from those who knew something of the occurrences. It is not known whether or not inquests will be held.

They adopted a resolution to secure engineers at once to have plans made and to advertise for bids for the contract at the earliest possible date, with the understanding that the construction work is to be completed in the shortest time consistent with good work

As contractors and manufacturers of materials have been aware for some time that bids would be asked for this bridge it is believed that there will be no delay in securing the necessary delivery of steel

PREPARE TO START POSTAL BANK HERE

Announcement is Made of Rules Governing Deposits--Much Interest is Being Manifested by Hitchcock

DEPOSITS MAY BE CONVERTED INTO U. S. BONDS

When Postoffice Inspector H H. Williams was here this week he left rules for the postal savings bank to be opened in Charleroi next Tuesday morning. Postmaster J. E. McCardle will have charge of the depository for the time being and it will be opened under his supervision. The opening hours daily will be fixed after a system for handling the deposits is worked out. The opening hours for a time after the opening on Tuesday will be 8 o'clock and the window will probably close at 6 o'clock The money order window will be used to receive deposits Postmaster General Hitchcock is interested particularly in the success of the postal savings banks in the rich Mononagahela valley and the success which has been attained in the handling of funds in the offices opened thus fas is complimentary to him The faith of the United States is solemnly pledged to the payment of deposits made in postal savings depository offices.

How To Open Accounts.

Accounts may be opened by any person 10 years old or over, by signing an application blank. Only a single account can be carried by any person and a married woman can keep an account in her own name free from interference of any one Patrons only will be allowed to open deposits and all must be opened in person by the depositor or an authorized representative. Subsequent deposits can be forwarded by mail Corporations, associations, societies, firms, partnerships or two or more persons jointly are probibited from having accounts, individuals only to be accepted as depositors. Upon the death of a depositor the amount to his credit will be paid to the executor or administrator of his estate upon compliance with the necessary requirements.

Service Is Free.

The service is free and the greatest privacy is maintained No charge will be collected when an account is opened, or with the withdrawal of money deposited. No information concerning an account or depositors will be disclosed.

One Dollar To Begin.

It takes $1 00 to open an account, and no more than $100 will be received at any one time. The largest amount one can have to his credit is $500, exclusive of accumulated interest Deposits are evidenced by postal-savings certificates issued in fixed denominations of $1, $2. $5, $10, $20 $50 and $100 each bearing data of the deposits, when made, etc These certificates can be kept in an envelope especially provided If any certificates are lost the postmaster should be notified [illegible] be saved by the purchase of 1-cent postal savings cards and adhesive 10-cent postal savings stamps, and the deposits made when sums of $1 or more in dollar quantities are secured. Two per cent interest is paid, computed annually, and from the first day of the month next following that in which the deposit is made

Withdrawals May Be Made

Rules are provided for withdrawing money by the surrendering and endorsement of savings certificates If only a part of the deposit is to be withdrawn a new certificate will be presented by the postmaster covering the amount to be left on deposit Interest may be withdrawn upon the depositor giving a receipt and credit will be placed on his certificate An accredited representative may make withdrawals for a depositor when the depositor's signature on a blank specially provided for the purpose is properly witnessed by a disinterested person.

Government Bonds Purchasable.

Any part of a deposit in sums of $20. $40. $60. $80. $100 or multiples of $100 up to and including $500 can be exchanged into United States registered or coupon bonds bearing interest at the rate of 2 1-2 per cent per annum, payable semi-annually and redeemable at the pleasure of the United States, after one year from date of issue, both principal and interest payable 20 years from such date in United States gold coin.

While the limitation of postal-savings deposits if $500 there is no limitation to the amount of bonds that may be purchased Additional accounts can be started after the maximum of deposits is reached and converted into bonds. Bonds will not be issued to those who are not depositors. Savings deposits can be converted into bonds on January 1, and July 1 of any year by the depositor making application 15 days before hand At the time the bonds are secured interest will be paid on the deposit as due and thereupon the bonds will become interest bearing.

Hitchcock's Pet Scheme.

Frankly stated, the postal savings bank is the invention and pet scheme of Postmaster General Frank H Hitchcock. It is especially for those persons who feel a little wary of banks, who hide their money in a stocking or a hole in the ground. Uncle Sam will not fail even if the banks do, and the depositor is protected by the nation

Blowing and Finishing Begin This Week at Macbeth-Evans

NEVER IN BETTER SHAPE

Plant Now Operating in Full--Extensive Additions and Improvements Made

With the capacity greatly increased in the blowing and finishing rooms by extensive improvements and additions, the tank department of the Macbeth-Evans Glass plant, resumed Wednesday and today Blowing was started Wednesday and the work of finishing was begun today. The factory has been partially closed down since July 1, undergoing repairs. The melting capacity is increased 50 per cent.

Together in the blowing and finishing rooms between 400 and 500 men went to work Wednesday and today. This includes a number of additional men to the force formerly employed. In the blowing room tanks were rebuilt and improved to a big extent, the work having been hastened as much as possible, but being thoroughly done The finishing room has been almost revolutionized.

Never was the local factory of the Macbeth-Evans Glass company in better shape for turning out glass ware of the various sorts handled. An addition is now being finished on a site on the southern side of Eighth street, which will be used for a ware room. At present the plant is crowded for space. The roof is now being placed on the new addition and paving will be completed in a short time When this addition is put into use it will further increase the working force to some extent

When the boarding boss of the house in Wireton went to awaken William Orlansky, a Pole aged 25. Wednesday afternoon he made the gruesome discovery of the man's dead body The man's head was in a noose formed of sheets and suicide was evident. Deputy Coroner H. W. Day of Monessen was notified and took charge of the body

Orlanskey was employed at the Pittsburg Steel mill, and this week was working night turn Wednesday morning he went to bed the same as usual. When late in the afternoon the boarding boss made an effort to awaken him, he found the door locked He broke it open and found the man dead

Orlanskey had formed a noose from sheets which he suspended to the bed post. In this he put his neck and it is supposed strangled to death. No cause is given for suicide, beyond that of despondency. His wife was in the old country, where she had been for some time and it is supposed that he was worrying on account of her prolonged absence He had money and had recently purchased a lot of furniture from a Monessen furniture dealer Orlansky was a well known Pole of Monessen

Harry E Pollock, of East Washington, Republican candidate for prothonotary announced Wednesday that he had withdrawn from the race He gave as his reason that he had not the money with which to complete the campaign This leaves a clear field for Dr A. STRAW LIDS HAVE THEIR INNINGS

Summer Thatch-Pieces Have to Go and Tomorrow is Last Day of Grace

If one is forgetful and dons his old summer straw thatch-piece and meanders down street as usual tomorrow and somebody bangs him on the head and sends that old straw thatchpiece spinning into the gutter to ruin, he shouldn't feel angry or discomfited—it's only a method employed to call his attention to the fact that the summer lid season has closed. Tomorrow Friday, September 15, is the date of the exit of the straw hat. It no longer will be the effeteheadgear, and caps derbies, or almost anything that doesn't cost a fortune will replace it.

There are several and varied kinds of styles of hats for men, but the kind

THINK AND TALK.

With the near approach of the primary election the all absorbing topic is naturally politics. Both municipal and county officials are to be elected and every citizen is vitally interested, as on the character of the officials to be chosen depends the conduct of the business affairs of the public which has to be paid for by the taxpayers of both county and borough. It is therefore essential that if the taxpayers desire to keep down expenses they must choose men with good business qualifications who will safeguard the business interests of the charge entrusted to them.

In the borough affairs the council and school board expend the taxpayers' money. It is these boards which pass upon the exonerations of taxes—that is the amounts which are difficult to collect or are uncollectable for some reason or other. Our tax laws are very lax in giving the taxable an unlimited amount of time in which to pay his taxes, in the interval of which many evade payment altogether. By watching these closely both the council and school board can save no inconsiderable amount each year for the borough. This is only one of the functions of the boards which are most important in the conduct of the municipal and school fiscal affairs. There are many others which have a direct bearing upon the material and moral welfare of the community, and it is therefore up to the voters to consider these matters when they make their choice at the polls on September 30.

SOMETHING TO TAX.

If those people who are clamorous for a change in the existing tariff schedules will but consider the situation they will realize that in case the present schedules are cut down the government will have to find something more to tax. At the present time the tariff is the chief revenue producer, and if the spread of local option and abstinence continues the intrenal revenue receipts will naturally diminish. That being the case income and other personal forms of taxation will have to be restored to for revenue for the expenses of the government.

It is possible that some of the tariff schedules are unduly high in some quarters and correspondingly low in others. If that is true they can be shifted and adjusted without disarranging the whole schedule. Nothing demoralizes business more than the readjustment of the tariff, and if the agitators will but bear this in mind during the next year, which will open up a Presidential campaign, much of the business stagnation which prevails during a tariff agitating campaign will be avoided. If the tariff is cut down the Government will have to find somethhing more to tax, and in that case it will no doubt bear more heavily on the individual than heretofore.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"I was somewhat chagrined to find my name on the 'sucker' list" remarked a Charleroi business man recently. "What do I mean by the sucker list? Why, a list of names gthered in every community and peddled out to promoters of schemes as ones likely to invest in stocks of schemes and projects. It is a matter of fact that lists of people are gathered in every community and forwarded to brokers and stock promoters, where they are arranged and classified, according to their occupations and their likelihood to have some surplus savings that might be invested. I have been told by an insider who has seen these lists that professional men head it—lawyers, physicians, newspaper workers, and ministers. Then come teachers, clerks, salesmen and wage earners generally. Women, who have been left an inheritance, widows in particular, stand high in the list as as among the first to approach. Merchants and small manufacturers are not rated high, as these usually have to employ all their surplus funds in their business. As these are supposed to be the easiest to rope in on the various schemes—the easy marks—they are derisively called 'suckers' by those who are trying to separate them from their money, just as the crooks who follow the county fairs, circuses and carnivals to work the country people call their prospective victims 'simps.'

"The way I came to find out I was listed was when a smooth spoken and genial stranger called at my office this week and begigged a few minutes of my time. He had a project, one of the greatest money makers in existence—so he claimed—and when it was sufficiently capitalized and got to working the money would simply flow in to the stockholders in a continuous golden flood. Would I care to invest? Shares were selling at only one dollar per, and after this month they would be advanced, and in a short time none could be gotten for less than par, which is fifty dollars. When he first broached the project he consulted a neatly type written list of names, which I could see was classified according to occupation. I realized at once that it was a 'sucker' list, but how my name came to be added is a mystery, for I have always turned down every wildcat scheme and every other, for that matter, as it is all I care to undertake to carry on my own business. As a matter of fact I have saved a great deal of money since coming to Charleroi by not having any to invest in the various schemes that have separated the people here from their money at different times. I may look like an easy mark in that respect, but I have the consciousness that I am immune to the blandishments of the smooth promoter."

SAVED DAUGHTERS LIFE

This Father Refused to Let His Daughter Die.

Here is a story with amoral that many parents might take to heart:

"My daughter was very pale, nervous, thin and suffered with severe pain in her back, so that we took her out of school. Her flesh became blue and she could not retain her urine. I spent over $100 for medicines but she grew worse. Finally I bought a bottle of Thompson's Barosma and she began to grow better right away. Five bottles of Thompson's Barosma made a complete cure and today she is a perfectly healthy girl. Thompson's Barosma saved her life, for she was failing so fast that death was not far off."—Frank D. Meeder, Pleasantville Pa.

If you are troubled with backache, sideache, weakness with backache, or any liver or kidney trouble, then it's time for Thompson's Barosma.

W. P. Henning's sells Thompson's Barosma in two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00, and he guarantees it to cure Bright's disease, high colored urine, bed-wetting and all other kidney and liver diseases. It will make anyone vigorous in a few weeks, because it is a great tonic and maker of rich red blood. All druggists.

In presenting myself as a Candidate for Coroner, I do so in the interest of the people only and in no way connected with any faction and I wish to state that if elected will observe the following platform.

If elected I will not appoint 15 or 20 undertakers as deputies, but will be Coroner of the County myself. I will appoint one deputy until the duties become so heavy that more are needed. If elected I guarantee that I will not be controlled by any man or set of men and that I will conduct the office to the best of my knowledge and ability and to the best interest of and justice to the taxpayers. I wish to impress it upon the mines of the people that on election day I will not have any person employed to work for me, neither will I have rigs to have the voters to and from the polls. What I want is a "square deal", and I will prove to the people, if elected, that I am worthy of their support and at the end of my term they will have the same good opinion of me as when they cast their ballots.

I am a working man and have no money to spend for election purposes other than advertising. If the voters of the county wish to vote for me on these principles, your support will be appreciated.

Yours Very Truly

Centuries ago, as Sir Walter Scott says in "Ivanhoe," men wore one thickness of clothes, whether of wool leather or velvet. The shirt was invented, but for a long time was worn only by the nobility and gentry. Then followed the waistcoat, breeches and later on, trousers. The overcoat, which succeeded the mediaeval cloak, was rare until the seventeenth century.

The Pacifier.

Some women while engaged decorating a village church were informed that a goat was making a meal of a "Peace on Earth, Good Will to Men" design on the leaves, which had been left in the church yard, says the St Louis Post-Dispatch.

"Make haste, Pat," cried the women, "the goat is starting to eat again."

"Let him ate away," said Pat. "I am goin' to wait until he's got some 'good will to man' inside of him."

WASHINGTON PLANT TO BE CLOSED BY WEST PENN CO.

According to reliable information received here, the West Penn Traction interests, which recently took over the Washington Electric Light & Power company as well as a number of other light and power corporations in this section, are preparing to close the local plant, at least partially, in a very short while, says the Washington Reporter. The intention of the company is said to be to furnish electricity to Washington and vicinity from the big main power station near Connellsville, or from another station to be built at a point central to all the company's holdings.

Whether the boiler battery at the local plant will be operated during the cold weather to maintain the steam heating system is not known definitely, but it is doubted if even this part of the plant is to be operated since such an operation might not give much financial return without the power adjunct.

The Washington plant erected within the past few years is one of the most up-to-date and best equipped in this section, although not the largest by any means. It has duplicate equipment of all kinds, and a capacity for much more light and power than it is now furnishing. What disposition is to be made of the dynamos, generators and other machinery at this point is not known, but in the event of the plant being closed, it is likely that the equipment will be removed to some other plant of the West Penn company.

The West Penn Traction company, with the several new plants it recently acquired in this section, is one of the heaviest producers of electricity in the Western Pennsylvania field, and its aim in operating through this section and furnishing light, heat and power to so many municipalties and concerns is to centralize its product stations as much as possible. It is said that the power for the local field will come for the present from the Connellsville region, but that it is the intention of the company later to build an immense central power plant at Charleroi, which is near the center of the company's activities, and supply electricity, to every part of the field operated, from that station.

Many incline to the belief that the steam heating business will also be abandoned by the company, but this is not certainly known. The congregation of the First Presbyterian church, fearing that such a step would be taken, held a meeting last night to consider the installation of a steam heating plant of its own to take the place of the electric light company's heat. Estimates which provided for the installation of a plant for both Sunday school room and main church building at a cost of about $1,600 were presented at last night's meeting, but astion was postponed for the time being.

Business houses and many private residents are anxious to know what is to be done regarding the steam heating proposition, as many of them would be forced upon its withdrawal, to install some independent means of heating. It is not likely, according to those who know most about the situation that anything will be done soon toward withdrawing the public heating by the light company.

a vigorous campaign at the November election, for prothonotary. This was a danger signal to the Lewis forces that had to be reckoned with.

Now, with no opposition to Lewis, the inference is that Donora's vote will be divided among all the candidates, and no attempt will be made by the voters there to support any other candidate solidly in the interests of Lewis. It is not necessary now for his friends to make deals for his nomination, and it is certainly the part of wisdom to take care not to jeopardize his chances at the November election. Pollock's withdrawal virtually "busts" the alleged slate, as without Donora's solid vote every candidate must depend upon his own merits and resources.

Various Uses for the Aloe.

In Africa the leaves of certain species of aloe provide material for bowstrings, hammocks, fishing lines and ropes. With the Mohammedans the aloe means much. For instance, those who have returned from a pilgrimage to Mecca hang it over their doors, as a sign that they have made the great journey.

MINGO RAILROAD BECOMES PROPERTY OF COAL COMPANY

The Mingo & Monongahela franchise, together with all maps, surveys and rights of way, has been disposed of by the projectors to E. J. Taylor, chief engineer of the Pittsburg Coal company, ostensibly acting for that corporation, although no information on the subject is vouchesafed at its general offices.

The project contemplates the construction of a railroad to extend from a point on the Baltimore & Ohio, near Thomas station, to a connection with the Pittsburg, Virginia & Charleston, at Monongahela, and which will, if built, open up a vast field of Pittsburg vein coal, the Pittsburg Coal company and the United States Steel corporation together owning [illegible] less than 15,000 acres. In addition, many tracts containing thousands of acres in the aggregate, are yet in the possession of the original owners, these farms, being among the finest of Washington county's famous estates.

The officers of the Mingo & Monongahela Railroad company are: President, William Abbott, Monongahela City; vice president, Dwight Thompson; treasurer, James H. Gamble, Elizabeth; chief engineer, C. M'K. Watts, Elizabeth.

John H. Bowers is the people's candidate for county treasurership. Why? Because the people want the best man available for that position. They want a man who is not subservient to the dictates of a boss; one who does not wear the collar of an autocrat; one of exceptional ability; one who possesses all the attributes of a man and one who is able to conduct the treasurer's office in the intrests of all the people and not for any special clique. Vote for Bowers.

ROBERT R. HAYS

ROBERT R. HAYS Candidate for the office of County Treasurer on the Democratic and Keystone Tickets, defines his position

To the Public

My business having brought me in close touch with the taxpayers of the county and understanding what the public desires in the way of reform, I pledge myself, if nominated and elected to the office of county treasurer, that I will advertise for bids from banks and trust companies of the county and will appoint depositories paying the best rate of interest and will require said depositories to furnish adequate security. I am opposed to the policy of making any one banking institution the depository for all the funds of the county, but favor distributing the funds among the banks and trust companies.

I promise to pay for my own bond so that no banking institution, individual or political faction can say that I am under obligation to them.

I promise that I will use no influence on the county commissioners in their effort to make a fair adjustment of the fees of the treasurer. Personally I favor paying the treasurer a salary.

I promise to conduct the office for the benefit of the public and not in the interest of any banking institution or individual.

I believe that publicity in public affairs is essential for the proper administration of any public office and I will keep the taxpayers familiar with the business of this important office through the newspapers of the county. No office holder should fear the light and the press is the best agency for the enlightment of the public.

I promise to give the office the same careful consideration I have given the business in which I am engaged and invite the voters to investigate my record at home.

Assuring you that I will exercise all my ability in safeguarding the country's money for the best interests of the taxpayers, I submit my candidacy to the voters and ask for their influence and support at the primaries September 30.

WEDDING TODAY IS BRILLIANT EVENT

Miss Evelyn Hayes Becomes the Bride of R. S. Moody--Leave on Motoring Trip

At Christ Lutheran church this morning at 9 o'clock Roderick S. Moody, and Miss Esther Evelyn Hayes, a popular couple of Charleroi, were united in marriage. Rev. Chalmers E. Frontz, pastor of the church, pronounced the words which made them man and wife. The ceremony was witnessed by only the immediate families of the couple. The impressive ring ceremony was used.

Later in the day the happy couple left on a motoring tour to West Virginia. They will be gone two weeks and during their trip they will see some of the points of historical interest in the Blue Ridge. Upon their return they will take up their residence here. A fine brick residence is now being completed for Mr. Moody at the corner of Second street and Fallowfield avenue, and in about a month Mr. and Mrs. Moody will move in there.

The bride is a popular young woman, and among her wide circle of friends is a favorite. Mr. Moody is a much respected young man. He holds a responsible position with the Macbeth-Evans Glass company, being employed in the electrical department.

Place to Hitch but Nobody Kind Enough to Tell Woman Loeation

Complaint was made this morning that a woman who drove in from the country to do some trading was ordered to move away from one or two places where she tried to hitch her horse. The orders were not from the police but from business people The woman seemed to be a stranger, and was at a loss to know what to do with her rig. No one directed her to the hitching posts provided and she is said to have experienced much inconvenience as well as embarrassment. Members of the Business Men's Association learned of the occurrence later and much regretted it. They desire all to inform strangers who may drive into town where to hitch their horses, as conduct like this would tend to drive trade away from the town.

J. K. RICKEY ENTERS FIELD FOR COUNCIL

J. K. Rickey announces in this issue his candidacy for the Republican nomination for council for the term of four years. Mr. Rickey is a young man of excellent character, an active Republican, and has made good in a business way. He is manager of the Cudahay Packing company's interests in Charleroi, a position of wide responsibility and trust, which he has acceptably filled for a number of years. Mr. Rickey is a property owner as well as the head of an interesting family. These are the claims he presents to the voters for their support, and his record is open for their scrutiny.

most in favor for the young men is that with a pencil roll. Nearly all the most up-to-date fall hats look as though they needed a shave, but that's only make believe. The real purpose is to catch all the dirt there is to be caught. However, it doesn't show much, for the colors scheme of brown prevents that. For the staid old individual who never wore anything but a derby or the broad brimmed Stetson, there will be no change practically from the usual style. Caps are becoming mighty fashionable and besides they are a heap cheaper than other kinds of bonnets.

A Little Conversation

Said the Shoe to the Stocking,
"I'll make a hole in you,"
Said the Stocking to the Shoe,
"I'll be 'darned' if you do."

No darning needed with our shoes. They don't make holes.

Said the Tree to the River,
"I'll fall into you,
Said the River to the Tree,
"I'll be 'dammed' if you do."

Dam your feet in our Shoes, and be comfortable.

Said the Fellow to the Girl,
"I'll put my arm around you,"
Said the Girl to the Fellow,
"I'll be 'held' if you do."

You can hold tighter, if you stand in our shoes.
